ERIC ROSENBAUM & SHAMS DABARON

Eric Rosenbaum is the president and chief executive officer of Project Renewal, a leading New York City homeless services nonprofit agency. Project Renewal's mission is to end the cycle of homelessness by empowering individuals and families to renew their lives with health, homes and jobs, and serves over 13,000 individuals annually who are homeless or at risk of homelessness across NYC.

Mr. Rosenbaum is the former president of CBST and a proud member of the congregation. He was COO of Win, Inc., a provider of family homeless shelters and supportive housing. Mr. Rosenbaum sits on several boards, including the Center for the Business of Health at UNC Chapel Hill, Reconstructing Judaism, and Vital Strategies, a leading public health nonprofit.

Shams DaBaron, known as "Da Homeless Hero," understands New York's housing emergency better than most – the city's lack of housing security has defined his life. He grew up in foster care from the age of two and has dealt with the many mental, spiritual, and physical crises that accompany a lifetime of housing insecurity.

Mr. DaBaron is a powerful voice and a tireless advocate for New York's homeless community. He has organized rallies and press conferences, hosted a mayoral primary forum, met with key elected officials, and shared his experiences with the city's leading media outlets. He was a David Prize Finalist, was recognized for his advocacy by the Interfaith Assembly on Homelessness and Housing, and currently sits on the board of Project Renewal.
